Duotone

Guided by the idea that contrast can and should be complimentary, Duotone's elegance derives from its apparent simplicity. Using only two colours – one for the weft and one for the warp – shades which might otherwise be in opposition, are combined with varied densities of yarn to create a unique identity.

Duotone's soft yet distinctive palette has received a recolour that lends new depth to colour pairings ranging from sulphate blue to coral. Its signature muted irregularity is paired with what Hella Jongerius describes as “the most simple flat-woven basket construction; the archetype of weaving” — a nod to Hallingdal, Kvadrat's iconic basket-woven textile.

Combining quiet intricacies of colour and texture, Duotone offers a powerful statement that never overpowers.
