Zulu 2

Zulu 2 is a light, transparent curtain fabric made from Trevira CS, designed by Giulio Ridolfo. It comes in updated colours and consistently reveals surprising nuances as the light changes.

Though Zulu 2 looks delicate it is robust. The textile is woven with an open leno-binding, which creates a pronounced texture, using fine, shiny yarns. Each colourway combines two different tones – a construction that adds depth and movement to the curtain's expression. Intriguingly, the colour intensity increases when densely draped, and decreases in front of the window due to its open weave and transparency.

The colourful new palette designed by Giulio Ridolfo brings together electric hues. It offers contrasting combinations of bright colours, as well dark metallic shades and a wide variety of natural, neutral notes.

All the colourways combine with the open construction of Zulu 2 to eye-catching effect: the colours appear to melt into each other, creating a unity. This characteristic is complimented by the curtain's subtle shimmer.
