Uniform Melange

Uniform Mélange is knitted upholstery textile designed by Febrik's experienced in-house design studio. Smooth and comfortable, it offers an extensive colour range and good stretchability.

The construction of Uniform Mélange comprises a polyester filling inserted between two knitted layers, which are predominantly made of wool. This gives the textile a natural, dry handle and a rich, voluminous character.

When applied to furniture, Uniform Mélange fits organic shapes without any resistance. Furthermore, due to the textile's inherent stretch properties, seams are reduced to a bare minimum.

Each of the colourways for Uniform Mélange unites two differently coloured yarns to create a gentle, subtle mé-lange expression. The textile offers an extensive palette that includes a broad selection of neutrals; classic tones such as reds, blues and greens; and vivid combinations like rich red and electric blue.

To ensure mixing and matching, selected colours of the woollen yarns are re-used within a series of other textile from the Kvadrat Febrik collection.

Uniform Mélange suits both contract and private spaces.
